WILSON DEPLORES EXAGGERATIONS OF DAILY NEWSPAPERS

Takes His "Tobacco Chewers Are Thinkers" Story, and Would Provide Redress.

SEAGIRT, N. J., Aug. 5 .- Governor Wilson digressed from affairs of state long enough today to express his views on the daily newspaper, saying:
"There ought to be some inexpensive method by which misrepresentation and false statement could be punished. I realize the difficulty of the task set to the newspapers and I recog-nize the sincerity of most of their efforts, yet I cannot understand some of the things they do.

"I once delivered an address in which I said that public opinion was not developed in great, congested communities, where people read a communities, where people read a newspaper going to work on a street car and experienced a reaction which they think is opinion. I said that public opinion was developed in the cross-roads store, where the farmers sat around, chewed tobacco, spit into the sawdust, and exchanged ideas.

"I said, jokingly, that no matter what might be said against tobacco chewing, it must be admitted it made men think and that wherever you found men chewing tobacco together there you found the real, public opinion of the country.

It Grew and Grew

It Grew and Grew.

"Imagine my horror when the newspapers the next day ignored all the rest of my address, which I thought was not without merit, and featured what I said about tobacco chewing, declaring that I said tobacco chewing made thinkers. Imagine my chagrin as I followed that story across the country. It got worse every mile, until, in a Dakota paper, I was quoted to the extent of a column on the great advantages of tobacco chewing. "And that was not the worst. A big chewing tobacco company made a photograph of one of the newspaper's reports, and printed it in its advertising. I was stamped as a college president who advocated chewing." as I followed that story across the Crane for Treasurer.

The only announcement the governor would make was that a treasurer had been agreed upon by himself and National Chairman McCombs, but that the name would be withheld until it could be determined whether the man selected would accept.

Mr. Crane, who was appointed by President Taft in July, 1909, as minister to China, but who was recalled in October of the same year, just as he was leaving for the Orient, is known to have leaned favorably toward the candidacy of Governor Wilson, having so expressed himself on a recent visit to Seagirt in company with President Van Hise, of the University of Wisconsin.

The announcement that Joseph E. Administration Anxious To Win Them Over Before Election.

The Administration is going to get busy with the colored voter and try to win him over before the elections in November. Evidence of this fact is seen in an order which has recently been given that a list be compiled of all colored employes or officials in the service of the Government and the promotions of colored employes or officials. Cyrus Field Adams, the Assistant Register of the Treasury, a colored man, one of the ablest of the number in the Government service, has been entrusted with getting the data.

It is the purpose of the Administra tion to get a complete list of those in the Government service. The list is not to be confined to persons in the executive departments. Even the colored employes of the Supreme Court are included, despite the fact such persons are supposed not to be active as partisans. Colored employes or teachers in the District of Columbia schools and employes in the District government are to be included.

All this information, with much

All this information, with much other bearing on the question of what President Taft has done for the colored man, will be compiled and published in a campaign pamphlet. It is intended to meet the situation disclosed in the preconventon primaries closed in the preconventon primaries and caucuses wherein many of the colored voters turned against President Taft.

FOR DISSOLUTION

Proposed Measure Independent of Those Recommended By Committee.

Congressman Stanley of Kentucky, chairman of the special committee which has just concluded its investigation of the so-called Steel trust, today introduced in the House a bill designed to bring about the dissolution of the United States Steel Corporation and similar "holding" companies engaged in the manufacture or steel and iron,

The Stanley bill is apart from the three measures recommended by the Stanley steel committee, and the former represents the individual views of Mr. Stanley on the question of breaking up the alleged monopoly in the steel industry. In brief, the Stanley bill provides: That no corporation engaged in the production of steel and iron, or the products thereof, shall enter interstate commerce unless its capital stock shall be fully paid or payable in cash, or in property or services at not less than the fair value thereof.

Cannot Hold Stock. That such corporation or association shall not have the right to hold stock of any other association or corporation or its own stock

That such corporation or association shall not be permitted to own or control larger ore deposits than may be necessary for its own needs for a reasonable length of time. The Stanley bill also seeks to limit the amount of the stock that an officer, director, or owner of one corporation may have in competing corporation. This limit is placed at 20 per cent. Congressman Stanley offers his bill lieu of the scheme suggested by the minority members of the Steel committee, who proposed Federal incorporation and Federal regulation of the con-duct of all large industrial corpora-tions. Mr. Stanley asserts his indi-vidual bill embodies the Democratic idea on the problem of the trusts. Stanley Gives His Views.

In explaining the measure, Mr. Stan-

"I have drawn a bill prohibiting corporations engaged in interstate commerce from holding stock in other concerns or having that stock held by other concerns, or buying and selling their own stock, prohibiting overcapitalization, excessive ore holdings, operation of common carriers by industrials and punishing such offenses by heavy fines and long terms of imprisonment, and to accomplish this I invoke only
